Revolutionising patio designs, Bistrò, a colourful, outdoor parasol, comes in two versions – a flat or dome-shaped sunshade – offering up different options for sun protection. Designed to sustain difficult environments, it is made of aluminium and is available in Paola Lenti's signature 'Madras' (plaid) or 'Tamil' (solid) fabrics. With accessories like side tables and seating, Bistrò comes with options for creating personalised, private and cheerful areas for resting, eating, reading or talking.

PLANTATION
by ALICJA PATANOWSKA

'Plantation' was established because of the need to find a remarkable, almost symbolic use of that which has been abandoned. The result is a porcelain object that rests in a common glass, allowing an observation of the growing process of plants, both its stem as well as its root. Made using glasses scavenged from bus stops, benches, curbs and alleys, this product allows the consumer the opportunity to reinvent an ordinary glass vessel and give it a new context and purpose.
