The main deck beach club and cockpit cover over 70 square metres. Especially notable is the sea-facing sofa integrated into the beach club. Opposite page, detail of the forward Sunset Lounge. Here, the ACPV Architects studio has designed chairs and loungers that appear to be freestanding, and therefore very light, but are in fact structural

One of the new arrivals from Paola Lenti, the Ellissi rug. Its irregular shape is ideal for interiors and exterior. The round and oval decorative elements are stitched together by hand. Made in rope yarn, it is long-lasting and resistant to outside agents

Generous proportioins and crisp geometries for the new version of the Otto by Servomuto hanging lamp that recalls the classic flying saucers seen in films of the 1960s and 70s. Ironic and elegant

The back of the Lepida by Woak chair (design Constance Guisset) comprises two elements that curve towards each other and almost touch. A delicate strip joins them like a high fashion sartorial detail
